The South Bend School Board

MR. FRED HELMAN, JR.

MRS. E. M. MORRIS

MR. ORLO DEAHL

MR. L. J. HARWOOD

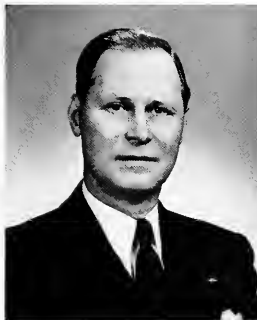

MR. A. M. RUSSELL, JR.

THE SOUTH BEND School Board is a group of citizens vitally interested in the public welfare who assume great responsibility, devote much time to the job, and receive little recognition for their services. While members of the board appear at such civic functions as graduations, where they confer diplomas, or are mentioned infrequently in the papers, their work is largely anonymous; it is, nonetheless, an operation of superlative size and importance. During 1946 the board administered the education of fourteen thousand children, spent two million six hundred thousand dollars of public money, employed six hundred highly trained technicians, and planned the construction of several new educational plants the cost of which will run into several millions of dollars. While the superintendent, principals, and teachers actually operate the schools, the Board of Education stands responsible for policy and practice in the system. The excellence of the present Board's work is best measured by the very high rating accorded the South Bend School system by the many educational and financial agencies which have examined it.

Appointments to membership on the Board of Education are made by the mayor and approved by the city council for a term of four years. The board is politically bi-partisan and is composed of members who have served for an average of eight years. Mr. Robert Orcutt is the very capable secretary of the board. Through his office and with the Board's approval all appropriations, purchases, disbursements, and contractual matters pass.

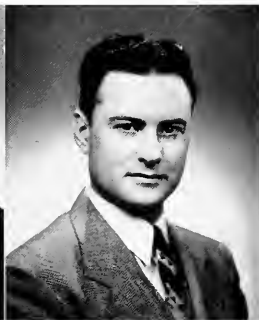

John Adams Administrators

MR. FRANK E. ALLEN
Superintendent

MR. GALEN B. SARGENT
Principal

MR. RUSSELL ROTHERMEL
Assistant Principal

Mr. FRANK E. ALLEN has been superintendent of the South Bend School System since 1931. Prior to that time he had served the city of Muncie in the same capacity. Mr. Allen received both bachelor's and advanced degrees from Indiana University where he distinguished himself in athletic and scholastic activities. After a term of teaching in rural schools he became principal, coach, and teacher in the New Castle, Indiana, high school. From New Castle he received his appointment to Muncie. In addition to his South Bend position, he serves as trustee of Indiana University.

Mr. Galen B. Sargent, principal of John Adams, was educated at North Manchester College and Northwestern University. He moved into the triple-threat position at Lakeville of principal-teacher-coach fresh from college. After his Lakeville experience, he became teacher at Central in South Bend until made Director of Research during the superintendency of Mr. Borden. When John Adams High School was built, Mr. Sargent was appointed principal.

Mr. Russell Rothermel became assistant principal at John Adams in 1943. He received his undergraduate training at Earlham College and his Master of Science degree in Education from Indiana University. He was transferred to Adams from Lincoln Junior High when Adams was opened in 1940. At both schools he was an instructor in mathematics and assistant coach of basketball.

IN ADDITION to the teachers here shown, the graduates wish to acknowledge with thanks the help of these members of the staff who were with us for part of the year: Miss Mary Jane Day, who has taken the place of Mr. Faust; Mrs. Landis, Mrs. Earl, and Miss Gaff who have substituted this year; and the student teachers, Miss Carol Kline, an Adams salutatorian who aided Miss Roell, Mr. James Harris, also a former Adams honor student who assisted Mr. Weir, and Messrs. Murphy, Tobin, and Marshall, who were in the Physical Education Department.

Class of '47

AT THE end of several busy weeks of completing their affairs at John Adams, a large class of 205 seniors was graduated. At the annual Senior Assembly, many exciting awards were given. Those who led the class in scholarship as valedictorians and recipients of the Jeweled Student Council Scholarship Award were Jerry Gibson, Kathryn McVicker, and Fred Wegner. Following these students was Barbara Stanz, the salutatorian. Barbara, Nancy Bartol, Nancy Giordano, Marjorie Soelch, and Paula Tanner received the Gold Student Council Award. Silver Award recipients were Bob Annis, Betty Lou Bryant, Wally Goffeney, Jeanette Graf, Elizabeth Lehner, Joan Mann, Sheila McMurray, Ernest Mendler, Rodney Million, and Beverly Watson. The John Adams Citizenship Award, gift of the Class of '42, was awarded to Jim McNeile and Beverly Watson. The D.A.R. History Award went to Kathryn McVicker and the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award was presented to Betty Lou Bryant. Nancy Giordano received the Bausch and Lomb Science Award. The Berg Vocal Music Award went to Roland Gibson and the Instrumental Award to Carolyn Deardorff. Jim McNeile received the Jeweled TOWER pin for his excellent work as editor of this year's TOWER. The P.T.A. Industrial Arts and Home Economics Awards went to Robert Krug and Sarah LaFollette, respectively. The C.I.O.---U.A.W. Local No. 5 Industrial Arts Award was presented to Bill Carter. Don Howell was recipient of the Coaches' Award.

Gold Glee Club Pins were conferred on Alberta Addison, Nancy Bartol, Virginia Blackford, Betty Lou Bryant, Ida Mae Fisher, Jerry Gibson, Jerry Gray, Joyce Huffman, Sue LaFollette, Therese Lazzara, Lois Lenon, Ned Mastak, Kathryn McVicker, Jean Miller, Charles Ortt, Roger Wade, and Beverly Watson.

VALEDICTORIANS: Jerry Gibson, Kathryn McVicker, Fred Wegner

Silver Glee Club pins went to Pat Center, Pam Hudson, Barbara Stanz, Paula Tanner, Leonora Young, and Virginia Blackford.

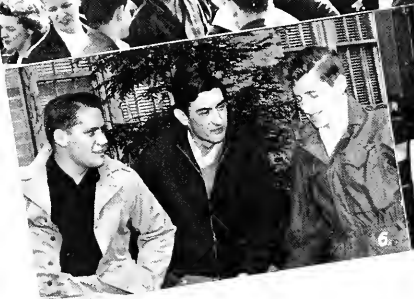

Ushers Awards went to Bill Adelsperger, Paul Chalfant, Bob Krug, Ernest Mendler, Dewey More, Kevin Navarre, Fred Neiter, Bob Shultz, Bob Smith, Bill Stolcenberg.

The Album Award, new this year, went to editor Joan Mann and staff members Sheila McMurray, Paul Tanner, Jerry Gray, Ann McNamee, and Betty Lou Bryant.

Drama Club Awards were made to Nancy Bartol, Kent Brown, Betty Lou Bryant, Patricia Center, Joan Dressel, Carolyn Deardorff, Jerry Gibson, Patti Guyon, Patricia Hardy, Pamela Hudson, Frances Lubbers, Marjorie Lubbers, Kathryn McVicker, Charles Ortt, James Sennett, Robert Smith, Barbara Stanz, Paula Tanner, Beverly Watson, and Gene Yundt.

Band awards, a golden lyre, went to Kent Brown, Paul Chalfant, David Cox, Carolyn Deardorff, Nancy Giordano, Patricia Guyon, Juanita Hobkirk, James Hoover, Donald Morningstar, Carl Rohrbaugh, Gordon Wheatley, Marilyn Wintz, and Paul Wolfram.

Cold Orchestra Pins were awarded to Kent Brown, Carolyn Deardorff, Nancy Giordano, Patricia Guyon, James Hoover, Marilyn Wintz, Paul Wolfram, and Leonora Young

Tower Jeweled Pin was awarded to James McNeile. Gold to Betty Hulbert, Lois Lenon and Fred Wegner. Silver to Patricia Center Patricia Guyon, Patricia Hardy, Pamela Hudson, Kathryn McVicker, Joyce Schleiger, and Barbara Sheehe.

The Library Gold Pin went to Lorraine Edmunds and Gloria Enfield. Silver to Helen Connally, Phyllis Corsuch, Darlene Piper, Francis Walls, and Patricia Weaver.

Debate pins, a new award, were conferred on Charles Ortt and Paul Chalfant, who received jeweled keys, and Jerry Gibson and Paul Wolfram, who received sterling keys.

The students who led the class as officers were Fred Wegner, president; Don Howell, vice president; Therese Lazzara, secretary; and Jeanette Graf, treasurer. Their class received much aid from their sponsor, Miss Kaczmarek, who helped organize their class activities. She was assisted by Mr. Weir, Mr. Nelson, Miss Law, and Mrs. McClure. Those students who served on the senior cabinet were Pati Guyon, Pat Biggs, Joe Catanzarite, Dick Jensen, Bill Thoner, and Roger Wade. Kathryn McVicker was Baccalaureate and Commencement Chairman and Fred Wegner was Senior Assembly Chairman. John Bennett was in charge of the Prom which was held in conjunction with Central on May ninth in the Palais Royal. Fred Wegner wrote the senior play, "School Daze", which starred Jim McNeile, Jerry Gibson, and Beverly Watson. The play was a burlesque on the school and featured a scene from Mrs. McClure's class room. The speaker at Commencement was Dr. James W. Clark of St. Louis and music was provided by the school orchestra and glee club. At Baccalaureate service on Sunday, May 18, Reverend Frank C. Martik addressed the graduates of the four South Bend schools.

The TOWER conducted a poll of the seniors to discover some outstanding members of the class. It was found that most students believed Jerry Gibson and Kathryn McVicker most likely to succeed, Glenn Personette and Beverly Watson the best looking, Don Howell and Betty Lou Bryant to have the best personality, Glenn Personette and Therese Lazzara best dressed, and John Leonhard and Lois Lenon the most humorous

 TWENTY-THREE people were graduated under the General Educational Development Test since the '46 Album was issued. This plan provides that those who entered the Armed Services before completing their high school courses could obtain their diplomas by successfully passing a battery of tests administered by the Armed Forces Institute. The GED graduates are: Jack E. Andrews, Frank Daniel A. Dolde, Paul F. Curran, Thomas C. Davis, George Emmons, Gunther Freitag, Charles B. Geleide, Gene R. Geleide, Gene W. Howe, Vernon R. Huston, Jr., William J. Irwin, Hubert D. Larson, Richard V. McGlothlen, Robert J. Nivens, Kenneth LeRoy Powell, Wade N. Risner, George R. Rouhselang, John E. Rush, Byron G. Sheehe, John E. Swilley, L. Dale Taylor, Charles C. Terry, Elmer J. Winters, Jr.

The Album Staff wishes to thank the Priddy-Thompson Studio for the excellent portraits of seniors, faculty, and administrators

THE JOHN ADAMS Student Council is composed of one representative from each home room. Its purpose is to co-ordinate student activities and to act as an administrative group of the student body. Important projects accomplished this year were: minimizing smoking around the school proper, having student supervision of hall discipline, and establishing a noon recreation program which includes movies, ping-pong, and dancing. All suggestions or ideas of members or of other students were discussed at length during meetings held every Thursday morning at eight-twenty.

THE DEBATE Team, this year, was under the direction of Mr. Donald Dake. About fifteen students answered the call for Debate in October and, of those fifteen, the following people were chosen for the squad; Paul Chalfant, Paul Wolfram, Mary Traub, Jerry Gibson, Charles Ortt, Arnold Gilman, Jim Cox, Harold Heeter, Bob Welber, and Dale Litherland. Charles Cone and Homer Badgett were active until their graduation in January.

The Debate question was "Resolved that the United States Government Should Provide a System of Complete Medical Care Available to All Citizens at Public Expense." The season closed with a debate dinner at which the decisions of the debate judges were opened. The team won forty percent of its debates. Their opponents in order were: Riley, Mishawaka, Knox, Nappanee, La Porte, and Central.

Tower

THE SEVENTH year of Tower publication was one of the biggest in the comparatively short career of the paper. At the start of the year, the new staff had a mark to keep in mind and work for. The Quill & Scroll society had awarded The Tower an International First Place award in its annual judging of high school papers. The suggestion from the judges of the contest gave many ideas as to how the paper might be improved and the staff started to work to do them.

A new appearance greeted the subscribers at the beginning of the year --- the front page masthead had been changed and the whole paper was set in a different type that gave it more of that "newspaper" touch. This first issue also brought something new in make-up-a-spread of football pictures across the front of the page.

Rising cost of printing held up many proposed plans of the staff. An extensive program of art was partly curtailed by this problem, but as many pictures as possible were used in the twenty-eight issues published. Two weeks in which the paper shortage stopped publication were also a handicap to those who planned and made the paper.

Editor-in-chief, Jimmie McNeile, had as his staff assistants Pat Cuyon on the feature pages, and Jack Highberger in sports Midway in the first semester, the old "major and minor" staff boxes were changed to a small staff box that provided more room in the editorial column and made open three new major staff positions

These jobs were a column of news from other schools by Pat Hardy, the music department in charge of Kathryn McVicker, and the club news under the direction of Pat Kissinger. Marion Higgins was appointed photographer in January.

In charge of the business of the paper were Joyce Schleiger, advertising; Laura Beth Miller, circulation, Helen Getzinger, exchange; and Laura Beth Miller, business manager. Miss Florence Roell was staff advisor.

The Tower issued four special papers that drew wide comment from the subscribers. They were the Christmas, Sectional tournament, Katinka, and Senior issues. A contest was also carried on throughout the basketball season. It was a prediction contest in which ten students were approached before each game to give their opinions on the score of the game. Winners were kept on record and at sectional time each was asked his idea on the tourney. One winner, Dick Wysong, was titled "Grand predictor of John Adams."

The staff of the paper unanimously agreed that it was a job meeting the week to week deadline, but a real pleasure to see the finished product being read by some four hundred Adams students.

Y-Teens

THE Y-TEENS, successor to the Girl Reserves as YWCA sponsored school club, enjoyed a full and useful year under the leadership of Miss Josephine Goodsell, club adviser, Nancy Ellsworth, fall president, and Patricia Taylor, spring president. The meetings were held Wednesday noons in the cafeteria. The girls discussed their problems and saw useful educational movies during these gatherings.

The "Around the World Reconstruction Campaign," designed to rebuild and restaff YM and YW establishments in Europe and Asia, was by far the most outstanding feature of the year's work. The Community Chest was very gracious and paid the South Bend quota for this campaign, but the girls wanted to do their bit and decided to raise enough additional money to buy a Quonset hut. The Adams Chapter of Y-Teens divided themselves into five teams and collected their quota by doing odd jobs. The girls saved their allowances, depriving themselves of candy, shows, etc., and put this toward their drive. Many contributed by sitting with children at night. The winning team was promised a prize, which was to be a dinner and a show paid by the losing teams. As two teams tied for first place both were treated.

Another highlight was the appearance of Mrs. DuVall, an excellent speaker from Chicago, at the YWCA. The Adams girls did their part by making the decorations for the tables. Mrs. DuVall spoke on "Home and Boy-Girl Relations." Everyone enjoyed this event immensely.

Lorraine Hoover was chosen to be one of South Bend's representatives at the Iowa Conference in August. This meeting will be attended by Y-Teens from all states and has the purpose of bettering relations between teens of all races.

The past officers were as follows: Patricia Taylor, president; Beverly Miller, vice-president; Mary Nold, secretary; Mary Ann Gudates, treasurer. Mary Lou Swank and Nancy Gradecki acted as Inter-Club Council representatives.

THE JOHN ADAMS Hi-Y Club enjoyed a year of plenty as it maintained a full program of activities, both service and social. Working with a full membership, the officers, composed of Fred Wegner as president; Bill Screes, vice-president; Jimmie McNeile, secretary; Paul Wolfram, treasurer; Bob Walsh, chaplain; and Don Howell, sergeant-at-arms; were able to establish the club permanently and definitely as a significant extra-curricular activity. The colorful induction was conducted twice during the year to formally admit approved candidates into the membership and a request was made to the club by the Riley Hi-Y to officiate at its induction. Acting in its capacity as a service organization, the club bought and decorated a Christmas tree for the school, afterwards, as by custom, giving it to a needy family. It kept an honor roll posted, assisted the Glee Club in the Christmas program, took charge of the Anti-Tuberculosis League seal sale, printed and distributed athletic schedules, sold pins and stickers, and sponsored the annual Easter Assembly.

Highlighting their year's activity was the Adams' Eve, which featured the first Varsity-Faculty basketball game to be held in this school and a record dance following the event. Quite a large crowd was in attendance and spent a hilarious evening witnessing the "Oldtimers" nose out the Varsity team 32-31. Proceeds from the sale of tickets went toward the fulfillment of a $100 pledge made to

Glee Club

THE JOHN ADAMS Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence T. Pate has just completed their most successful year. Although the annual Christmas Vesper service could not be held, because of the coal shortage, an impressive assembly program was given. This program was opened by the traditional candle light processional.

In October, a group of the Glee Club was selected to sing with other students from Northern Indiana for the North Central Teachers Association. At this time they were privileged to sing under the leadership of Dr. Russell Morgan, Supervisor of Music in Cleveland. Early in the second semester the entire group plunged into work of the musical comedy Katinka. Much hard work and time was contributed by the members to make this a huge success.

Through out the year small groups have been asked to sing for many organizations in the city. The Triple Trio has been in great demand. The girls have all been in this group for two years so their reputation has been established.

The Glee Club co-operated with the Hi-Y to present an Easter program to the student body.

The Club fittingly closed the year by singing at Commencement and Baccalaureate.

This year saw the beginning of a new club in conjunction with the Glee Club. It is known as the B Sharp Club and was organized for people seriously interested in music. They are investigating the various fields in music and discussing their findings at luncheon meetings.

The members have been especially fortunate in having three fine accompanists, Martha Craig, Kathryn De Long, and Laurette Cantor. There have also been an unusual number of soloists this year.

The Glee Club is governed mainly by the members themselves. Officers for this year were Jerry Gibson, President; Betty Lou Bryant, Vice-president; Shirley Williams and Pat Kissenger, Secretaries; and Bill Cooley and Sue LaFollette, Treasurers. Other officers have charge of robes, music, and arrangement. The advisory committee, with Mrs. Pate, shapes the Club's policies and section leaders assist in individual problems that arise.

The 113 Glee Club members attend rehearsals promptly at 7:30 A.M. They appreciate the loyal interest shown by the alumni.

Usher's Club

THE JOHN ADAMS Ushers Club, sponsored by Mr. Volney Weir, is one of the most active clubs in our school. Their duty is to usher for all school activities. Among their regular duties outside school is to usher for such groups as Civic Music and The South Bend Symphony. They are also called on for special programs given at John Adams Auditorium. This takes time but has the considerable advantage of permitting the boys to see a great many fine performances.

The Adams club along with the ushers from Central did an excellent job during the sectionals and regionals. This is one of their toughest jobs of the year because of the huge crowds, the many sessions, and the extra bleachers which are erected on the stage at that time.

In the spring of the year they were called upon for the first time since their organization to usher outside of John Adams auditorium. This was at a special showing of Henry V at the River Park theater.

The president for this year was Robert Smith and acting as captains were the following: Robert Krug, Fred Neiter, and Kevin Navarre. The other officers were; recording secretary, Dewey More and activities secretary, Russell Ohlheiser.

THE DUTIES of the Screen Club are not too numerous, but the work of showing films to classes is of great value to the students. There are 15 boys in the club who give up their time in study hall during the week to show films.

Kevin Navarre, with the assistance of Herb Singleton, sets up the equipment, and doles out the assignments to the various operators. The program is directed by Mr. Rothermel.

The program of visual education is becoming more important, and the clubs activity is increasing.

THE LIBRARY club serves to help run our school library as a service center for you. The student library staff is made up of sixty members who mend, paste, shellac, shelve, catalogue, file, and do reference work. The staff advertises through the use of three display cases and the library bulletin board. This year two pot lucks were held and the club entertained the LaPorte Library. Senior members of the library club (who have contributed three hours of work per week for five semesters) receive a gold pin, and those who have worked for three semesters receive a silver one.

UNDER the direction of Mr. Cecil R. Deardorff and his assistant, Mrs. Lewellen, the John Adams Band had a very busy year. Rehearsing five days a week prepared the band to play for several of the football and basketball games. During the football season many intricate formations were executed, the two most popular being those of a large bicycle and ferris-wheel.

The annual Spring Concert was presented March 14. The program was well received by the audience. Ted High played a baritone solo "Bride of the Waves," and Chopin's piano solo, "Scherzo in B^b Minor," was played by Lorette Canter. A novelty number, "Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf," was narrated by Pati Guyon. She was assisted by Carl Rohrbaugh as the wolf, and Jimmie McNeile, the hunter.

The band also participated in a combined all-city clinic March 27, directed by M. H. Hindsley, director of the Illinois University Marching Band. The bands held class all day and presented a concert in the evening. To demonstrate the ability of the musicians, a few of the numbers were entirely unrehearsed.

Caroline Deardorff won the most valuable band member award presented each year by Harry E. Berg. She was selected by the band members for the honor.

Also under the direction of "Doc" Deardorff is the dance band. This group was organized in the Spring Semester of 1946 with the intent of giving the few in the school who thought that they could play dance music a chance to prove it. After one rehearsal most of the participants agreed that it wasn't as simple as ABC. Most of them, however, stuck it out. Yes, this band was presented to the public.

On November 22 the "Swing Band" played for a dance sponsored by the Tower. At this dance many "all-time-old-timers" such as "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody," and "Stardust," this latter soloed by Don Morningstar, were played.

During summer vacation those who could, met with the summer band and continued to practise. Then came school again. Once again these noble musicians were at it. Now one could hear such things as ??? coming from the band room.

On Saturday February 8 after Adams' victory over Riley, this band again braved the student body and played for another dance. This time such things as "Rainy Night in Rio," "South America Take It Away," and "Sonata" filled the Little Theater.

After a successful second semester the "Swing Band" plans to carry on into another session of Summer Band. But don't worry folks, we'll be back next year with new and different tunes, minus some of the old faces, but plus some new ones.

organization. This is the orchestra. The orchestra has been very busy this year getting into running order. After much "noisy" practise and putting up with Harold Heeter's dropping his drum sticks and Kent Brown's running from the tympanies to the bass drum the orchestra had its season climax when it played for "Katinka." Also on the schedule were the Parent Teachers Program and an all-city Band and Orchestra Music Festival May 6. At this affair practically every public school musician in the city did his stuff. Adams was full all day of fiddlers hardly big enough to carry their instruments, and in the evening each band and orchestra played a composition. Several pieces by the all-city orchestra completed the program.

THERE was a group of workers that one has seen running about the school, apparently being very busy, but whose results were not seen until the week before summer vacation. This was the Album staff.

The staff's work began the day school started in early September and ended when the books were distributed to the students. Their workshop was the "back room" of 101, Mr. McNamara's homeroom. The members of the staff devoted their daily study hall to the 5th hour Album period.

The Album staff consisted this semester of Mr. McNamara, faculty adviser, Joan Mann, editor, Sheila McMurray, Cynthia Albrandt, Lorraine Hoover, and Joan Heddens. Paula Tanner added to this year's book with her skillful drawings, while Jerry Gray, along with Mr. McNamara, spent his time taking the many pictures which grace the pages of the Album.

Betty Lou Bryant was the head of the Advertising staff. Their work consisted of going to stores throughout South Bend to receive contributions and solicit ads toward the payment of the Album. Mr. Nelson was faculty advisor for this group.

*W*EEK after week, game after game, the 1946 football team at John Adams felt the sting of defeat---defeat by bigger, stronger, and more experienced teams, but defeat brought laurels and lessons to the newly born gridders.

This new birth started with the appointment of Garland (Jim) Crowe as head coach and blossomed during the season with many events that added to its growth. As was so amply expressed by the new coach, "We haven't shed any tears over losing, and do not expect anyone to do so. We played well against greater opposition, and, in two or three years when we have the 'stuff', the same teams that walloped us this year will taste some real hungry football playing."

Opening the season in the usual tough manner by taking on Mishawaka, the team looked good in operating the Crowe single-wing attack, but couldn't keep pace with the Maroons who scored twice. Donny Howell tallied for the Eagles but had the run nullified making the final score 12-0.

A week later a spark of improvement was noted in "game savvy", but in spite of some sharp tackling and blocking, the big Bears from Central rolled up a 32-6 count before the game was over. Don Howell scored on a one yard plunge in the final quarter.

Typical of the balance of power through the conference was Goshen's team, which was supposed to be a breather for the Adams lads. The Redskins, however, fielded their best team in years and won the game 25-0. Underclassmen took over in the second half, and it was after this game that all but three seniors chose to leave the squad.

Without the services of these seniors, Riley whipped the team by the same score as did Coshen. A down pour of rain drenched Adams hopes of mounting a successful pass attack featuring spunky little Joe Howell.

The Green Wave from Washington was the fifth straight opponent of top flight quality faced by the weary band of Eagles. Mr. Schedule Maker really dished it out to the East Side Gang, but as the coach remarked, "Everybody wanted to play us." The Panthers were hounded by this spirited team they faced and only managed a 7-0 lead at half-time. Three plays after the second kick-off Joe Howell ran sixty-seven yards to score, but after this short ray of hope, the Panthers took off to win 31-6.

Once again, down Plymouth way, the opposition had one of its toughest teams in years. It was a see-saw battle during the first half, but the Rock's relentless attack won out 33-19. Barritt and the Howells paced the Eagle attack.

It was the same story against the last three teams, bigger, stronger, and more experienced, but each game added much to the future hopes of such underclassmen as Barritt, Howell, Patterson, Booth, Plott, and Roberts in the backfield, Simon, Deiter, Coker, Gooley, Nichols, Lane, Troeger, Wagner, Wright, and Zeider in the line. Senior letter winners were D. Howell, Robbins, Leonhard, More, Cormican, and Carter.

The last games were against Elkhart, conference champs Laporte, and Michigan City. The respective scores were. 32-7, 38-0, and 31-6.

At the close of the season, these up and coming young Eagles had a world of experience with which to start the next year. The football fortunes of John Adams are definitely on the up-swing, and with careful planning and execution should produce a top-notch team in a short time.

Winners of the awards were announced at the annual banquet. Don Simon was elected captain of the team and awarded the Kiwanis medal for scholarship and sportsmanship, Millard Nichols received the Reco lineman award, and Don Howell the Gilbert trophy for the most valuable back.

GLENN PERSONETTE, Kiwanis Award Winner

TWO regulars from the last season, two varsity substitutes, and a representable gathering from the B-team greeted coach Ralph Powell when he called for basketball candidates early in October or 1946

By the end of an eighteen game card, the red and blue team of '47 had piled up ten victories, four of them conference wins over Goshen, Michigan City, Riley, and Nappanee. Five of the season's eight defeats were lost by three points or less.

At sectional time the drawing of Central faced the determined brood of Eagles who fought, but met defeat from the eventual sectional and regional champs. Earlier in the season, the conference co-titlists

Basketball

Bears had a hard time of it when Adams fell 31-30 after a real hardwood battle which marked the fourth consecutive time that Central had beaten Adams.

Harold Ziker, a junior and individual high scorer, paced the Adams quint in shooting all of the way, most notably at the beginning of the season when the team enjoyed a five game winning streak. The schools which fell in this early onslaught were Washington-Clay, Mishawaka, Lew Wallace, Goshen, and Riley. The win over Lew Wallace was the first time that a Powell directed Adams five had turned in such a feat.

Manager Ed White

Coach Ralph Powell

Two quick conference losses to LaPorte and Central marred the win streak, but established Adams as a formidable outfit since the two games were lost by a total of four points. In these two games, Adams played the double winners of the conference, and did the best of about any other team that had met up with the two powerhouses. Of special interest in the LaPorte game was the fact that the Eagles trailed 23-8 at the half, but came back within three points of a victory

A complete rest from holiday play was experienced by the squad but it suffered none from the loss of action for victim No. 6, East Chicago Roosevelt, was tacked up with the start of a new year, 1947. A defeat by Mishawaka in conference play, an overtime victory from Michigan City, and another one point loss to Washington came in quick succession. A trip to Plymouth proved to be disastrous by a one point margin, but a late rally against a hot Woodrow Wilson team a week later brought another win to the Eagle brood. North Side of Fort Wayne and Culver played host to the team, but proved ungracious as far as the boys were concerned, and won each game.

The season drew to a close with conference games against Riley, Nappanee and Elkhart. The Wildcats fell in an overtime battle, Nappanee was routed 42-27, but Elkhart played its usual home floor game of ball and walked off with its fourth straight victory in as many seasons over its South Bend rival.

A review of some of the outstanding players on this 1947 John Airlams basketball team would most certainly include Captain elect Don Howell, who was one of the first string carry overs from the previous year. It was his steadiness under fire and leadership on the floor that were responsible for his captaincy award. Don was usually very dependable in the scoring column, although he did not take many shots. His accuracy was probably the highest percentage of any on the team because he made his shots count.

Another big gun in the red and blue starting five was Glenn Personette, who served three years as a varsity ball player and who most certainly was a mainstay in the line-up. He saw more action during the season than any other ball player on the club, and was definitely a leader and play maker on the floor. His high arching set shots gained him fame as a marksman from all parts of the rival districts, and he was one of the most feared players in the area by the opposing coaches. The Kiwanis award for scholarship and sportsmanship was presented to Glenn at the end of the year.

Fred Wegner and Roland Fye were the two boys carried over from the last year's varsity. Fye gained a starting berth after the first few games of the year, but suffered a "strep" throat infection late in the season and quit the squad before sectional time. Wegner was a good man to have around because of his set shot artistry and snappy ball handling. He was one of Powell's most frequently used substitutes.

Up from an excellent B-team were seniors Dave Cox, Bill Green, George Granberry, and Rod Million. Granberry, a senior A at the beginning of the year, started the first two games, but graduated in the January class. Million served in a substitute capacity, but quit the team late in the season. Cox and Green each started several different games, but were called on for relief work most of the games. Green, the biggest boy on the team, was noted for his hook shots, while Cox liked to sneak in through the opponent's defense and lay in two points with a fancy drive in. Both were valuable assets to the team.

Juniors seeing action were Don Lambert and Harold Ziker. Ziker was one of the most respected and feared players on the squad by all teams who faced the Eagles, because of his ability to keep above the ten point scoring mark in every game. As mentioned before, he was season high scorer. His scoring ability from the pivot circle was uncanny, and sometimes seemingly impossible. "Mo" was a little on the hot-headed side which added to his color as a player. He kept the team alive and rolling with his will to play and win. Ziker will undoubtedly turn out to be one of the best hardwood men in John Adams history.

"Legs" Lambert was the lanky lad on the team, which was directly responsible for his many minutes of playing time. Don was well liked by his team mates, and by the team backers. He was always quiet on the floor, but made it known that he was around by rebounding, and scoring at the right times. He will be of great value to the team in the coming season.

Most discussed team members were the Truex twins, the red-headed dynamite duet just up from junior high. So outstanding was their play that they made first string varsity by the end of the year. Dick and Don looked so much alike that official scorers had trouble racking up the right points for the right man. An example of this point is the fact that, in the first game that they started, the box score in The Tribune was just the opposite of what was correct for the twins. Don was high scorer of the two, his points coming from tip-ins under the basket. His brother, Dick, set up many points by passing the ball on a quick break to other team members. Much will be expected from each of the boys in the next two years at Adams.

Two other players who will be back next year, but who saw largely B-team action are Johnny Weissert and John Keller. They are both nifty ball handlers and set shot artists. Weissert dressed for the sectional tournament.

An additional note of praise should go to little Eddie White, senior manager of 1947. "Ed was one swell guy to have around", was the general feeling of both coaches and team alike. He added a lot of fun and color to the practice hours, and games too, when he wore his red corduroy shirt in contrast with Mr. Powell's green one. Another person who received recognition at the awards assembly was statistician Charley Ortt, whom the coaches termed as "a general handy man," for the team. He kept up-to-the-minute data on shooting and defense work.

Mr. Herbert Reed, basketball coach at Western Michigan University, delivered the main address at the seventh annual basketball banquet. He urged the boys to train and get ready for the next year now, instead of waiting until the season began. His talk was a fitting tribute to the 1946-47 basketball team at John Adams High school --- a team which helped much to build a growing tradition in the comparatively new school.

Track

FOR TWO successive years the John Adams track team has dominated the conference as a result of twice winning the sectional track meet and picking off dual meets with gratifying regularity. The 1947 team had to assume responsibility for defending this reputation with only two letterman and a handful of other veterans who had not demonstrated monogram quality. The season opened badly. As the Album goes to press the balance sheet shows one meet won from Washington by a score of 56.5 to 52.5 and losses to Riley, Mishawaka, Michigan City, Elkhart and Central. Prospects are now looking up, however, as four athletes qualified at the Mishawaka trials for the conference finals to be run May ninth at Roosevelt's field in East Chicago. Jerry Gibson won the broad jump, and Ben Jurcik, Bob

Smith, and Jack Swindeman qualified in the 440, high hurdles, and high jump respectively.

Four boys stand out as the superlative performers of the squad: Jerry Gibson appears to be one of the best men in the Northern Indiana League. After a late start made necessary by his playing the lead in the musical "Katinka," he has set two all time Adams records; 21' 11.25" in the broad jump and 10.5 seconds in the century. Bob Smith, also in his third track and field campaign, has emerged a dependable winner in the high hurdles. His 16.5 in the city meet was good enough to get him a first place and an Adams record. Bob also runs a nice race over the low sticks. Long, lank, and steady Dave Irwin is a middle distance man who is a constant point getter. In addition to his specialty, the half mile, Dave competes in the 220, the 440, and the mile when the situation seems to indicate that a little running might help. Only underclassman in this quartet of stars is diminutive Ben Jurcik. While Ben's big feature is the 440, he appears also in the dashes and the half mile. These four boys and a half mile relay team are Adams' best hope for representation at the state meet to be held in Indianapolis on May twenty-fourth. Other seniors who have been steady point getters are Don Howell, high jumper, shot putter, and broad jumper and Jack Swindeman, high jumper.

Coach Krider places great hope for the future in a roster of excellent sophomore and junior prospects. Ronald Minzey, LeRoy Barritt, Bill Mitchell, and Bob Manby promise much in the dashes and, along with Jerry Gibson, make a half mile relay team that might be heard from in state competition in the '47 season. Tom Lane, Bill Cooley, and Jim Barcome promise big stuff in the shot putt. Middle distance men Nichols, Rummel, Dave Gibson, Foster are expected to shape into a strong relay team in addition to producing plenty of points for the '48 season individually. Loren Beebe, handicapped this year by illness, should have a big year in the pole vault.

Golf

BURNING up the local golf courses during the fall of '46 was the John Adams golf team, coached by Kermit Thompson, and captained by beltin' Jimmy Sennett.

The most successful squad in Adams' history got this distinction by winning a state wide invitational tournament at LaPorte and finishing second place in the conference. Riley won the conference title by defeating the Eagle linksmen 6.5-5.5 in the fourth match of the season. The team had a total of four victories and two defeats including the state tournament.

Each of the boys on the squad was a real threat, and shared honors throughout the year in different matches. Jim Sennett, South Bend's junior champion, was the mainstay and was usually first man on the team. Tow-headed Rodney Million and Ernie Mendler were the other seniors seeing action. Rounding out the six man squad were juniors Paul "Byron" Bumann, Johnny Weissert, and Dick Worth.

The season's schedule and scores:

Adams -----	5.5	Central -----	6.5
Adams -----	11.5	Washington --	.5
Adams -----	5.5	Riley -----	6.5

Tennis

WINNING five out of their eight meets, the 1946 Eagle tennis team came very near to winning the conference trophy and making the season the most successful in John Adams history.

John Bennett was elected captain of the team which had as its letter winners, James Borden, Milton Corona, and James Cox. Certificates went to John Bennett and Dave Cox. Charles Ortt was awarded a chevron as manager.

Coach Paul Reber used no certain men in the same position, although it was usually John Bennett who carried the load as first man. The doubles teams were also alternated in the matches.

Boys seeing action but who did not win monograms were Bud Witt, Bill Rummel, John Keller, and Bill Cox.

Baseball

A MID-SEASON victory string of three games, one of them over powerhouse Washington, brought the 1947 baseball team into a tie for first place in the conference. This was the highest accomplishment that the team achieved before deadline time for The Album.

Cold and wet weather hampered early season conditioning for all teams in the region, Adams included. In the first game of the year, a practice affair with Riley, the lack of practice showed up as errors and wrong plays gave the team an 8-8 tie with the Wildcats.

Starting a round-robin, home and home schedule in the NIHSC for the first time in history, the Eagles met Central in the initial league game. One hit was all that could be shaken from the Bear's hurler, and this was a last inning triple by Dave Coker. The final score of 6-0 put Adams in the cellar for the year's first encounter.

Using star pitcher, Don Truex, but sparingly, coach Rollo Neff led his team to the first victory of the year over co-titlist Elkhart 5-0. Jim Nevins did a good job of holding the Blazers to two hits in the first five innings.

A 7-4 loss to LaPorte was the last setback that the Eagles took for three games, and at the end of this win stretch, John Adams name was at the top of the daffy conference standings. Two quick losses threw the squad back into the pack again, and as the last form is locked on the Album the NIHSC is a scramble with six games left on the schedule.

One Adamite commented at a game one night, "One never realized just how valuable a man Dick Jensen was until we didn't have him." It was also a fitting tribute to Dick, who was counted on very heavily to carry the pitching load this year. Just before the season opened, Dick was taken to the hospital with Bright's disease, which kept him from playing for the whole year. He was one of the best pitchers in the area, and could have added the right strength to the team in its '47 campaign. As it was, the brunt of the mound duties went to sophomore ace, Don Truex. Don is one of the most promising pitchers South Bend has ever seen, and keeps up with the best of them while he is working. In something like 25 innings he had 40 strike outs to his credit, not quite an average of two per inning. Other pitchers on the staff were sophomores Jim Nevins, and Bill Cox. Both are spunky little players, and show much promise for the next two seasons.

Seniors on the team were Glenn Personette, Fred Wegner, Ed White, and Dave Cox. Nucleus for a strong team next year includes Bill Roberts and Phil Smeltzer, catchers, Dick Truex and Don Simon for first base, Dave Coker at second, and outfielders Keith Zieders and John Keller. Devon Frash and Dave Hyde also show promise as rookies.

THE STRAW HAT",

a French farce, was presented by the Drama Club on October 22. Director Cassaday produced a fine show which featured a sparkling cast led by Fred Wegner. Fred, as Fadenard, got himself embroiled with a hat, a horse, and any number of lovelies. "Katinka"

"KATINKA," a light opera by Rudolph Friml and the most ambitious production ever put on at John Adams, was presented on April seventeenth and eighteenth by a brilliant cast made up of the Adams Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence T. Pate, Mr. James L. Cassaday, and Mr. Donald Dake. Assisting them were Pat Center, student dramatic director, and Barbara Stanz, student musical director.

More than three thousand people saw the play during the two evenings it was presented and found it good. Especially favorable comment was made on the elaborate and colorful sets designed by Mr. Cassaday and Mr. Faust. Costuming, done by the ladies of the Adams P.T.A. and Miss Puterbaugh's and Miss Minniear's home ec. classes, was done on the largest and most elaborate scale seen on a South Bend high school stage. The many changes worn by the "Vienna Girls" chorus were especially appreciated.

The first act of the play takes place in Russia where Katinka has just married Boris, a Russian diplomat. Complications arise when Katinka's childhood sweetheart returns and they find that they are still in love. To add further commotion it seems that Boris's first wife is still living. From there we follow them to Turkey, where they try to find his first wife, Olga. The merry chase ends in Vienna where all turns out well and the show comes to a brilliant finale.

The part of Katinka was played alternately by Nancy Gradecki and Myra Roberts, and the part of Helen was played by Barbara Stanz and Lois Lenon. The brisk American, who seems to always be in a hurry and always willing to settle problems with his ready check book was played by Jerry Gibson. Praises of Jerry's excellent work in this part have been heard since from many admirers. Katinka's husband, Boris, was Bill Cooley and her lover was Bill Grounds. Other leads were Joyce Huffman as Katinka's mother, Therese Lazarra as Olga, and Nancy King as Varenka. In all about three hundred Adams people participated in the production.

May we repeat?

The merchants, manufacturers, and professional people whose names appear on these pages have shown themselves to be real Adams boosters. For each of the five years THE ALBUM has appeared many of these people have contributed to help make up the difference between what THE ALBUM costs and what the students are able to pay for it. Each year when the students who are soliciting advertising call on them, these, our good friends, give us their patronage. As an equally loyal Adams fan patronize them!

Hallelujah!

One month --- two weeks --- one day --- its over . . . we've graduated! But we won't forget! Fred and Jerry and Mickey and Bobbie made their speeches and a lot of people have new jewelry. All the girls cried and all the boys wanted to. Those anticipated grapes taste a little like ashes. But remember . . . Lizzie loosing her skirt . . . Mr. Crowe and Fred feuding in the Adams Eve . . . Donny jitterbuggin' at the prom . . . how peeved Mac was when our canine friend joined us in American Lit. . . . Loi's impersonation of Jolson . . . the escapades of little Katrina and Joseph-eous in Socie . . . The exchange of senior cards . . . Baccalaureate . . . Commencement . . . We won't forget!
